Petition To Revive Unintentionally Abandoned Patent Application

Under 37 CFR §1.137(b)

Sir:

Applicant hereby petitions to revive of the above-identified patent application in order to pay the issue fee. The issue fee as authorized by the enclosed issue fee transmittal form, accompanies this petition.

Applicant timely sent the issue fee transmittal form PTOL 85B to the Patent Office, with a signature at the bottom authorizing payment of the issue fee, but unintentionally failed to fill in the deposit account number in part 4b. Applicant received the post card receipt for the issue fee transmittal dated by the Patent Office on February 12, 2001.

Petitioner received a notice of abandonment on April 25, 2001 stating only that the issue fee had not been received. Applicant believed that the issue fee transmittal had been lost by the Patent Office and thus transmitted a "Petition to Withdraw Notice of Abandonment..." on May 24, 2001 along with a copy of the original issue fee transmittal and the post card receipt.

On October 6, 2004, the petitioner received a decision by the Patent Office denying the applicant's "Petition to Withdraw Notice of Abandonment ...".

Please charge my deposit account 14-1270 in the amount of $1370 under §1.17(m)(1), for filing this petition for revival of an unintentionally abandoned application.

The entire delay from the due date of the reply until the filing of this petition was unintentional.

Respectfully submitted,
